LUKE P. BLACKBURN.
The Monument to the Philanthropic Governor of Kentucky Unveiled.

FRANKFORT, KY., May 27.—The old capital of Kentucky was in complete possession of the Knights and officers of the Grand Masonic Lodge today. The Grand Commandery of Knights Templar met in annual conclave, and the Grand Lodge came at the request of Governor Buckner to unveil and dedicate the monument erected by Kentucky over the remains of the late Governor Luke P. Blackburn. At the State House ex-tiv. Knot delivered the address of welcome, Grand Commander Mather responding. After dinner the procession formed and moved to the cemetery.

Gov. Buckner, the speaker of the occasion, Mrs. Blackburn, widow of the dead Governor, and a number of ladies occupied places on the stand near the monument. The commanderies, military and people surrounded the stand, and at 5.30 o'clock Gov. Buckner arose and spoke as follows:

"Grand Master Charles H. Fish, of Covington—Most Worshipful Sir: The people of Kentucky, being animated by a desire to show their respect and to honor the memory of Dr. Luke P. Blackburn, who was one of the esteemed Governors of this Commonwealth, have erected this monument, and are desirous that it should be examined by the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, and if approved, that it be dedicated and unveiled, agreeable to the usages of your ancient and honorable institution.

Then the ceremony of the Masonic order, beautiful and impressive, was followed, and after pouring the corn, wine and oil, the Grand Master slowly struck the monument three times with his gavel; the covering was removed and the band solemnly and sweetly began to play a hymn; Rev. J. M. Worrell, D.D., then offered a prayer, and Gov. Buckner introduced Judge W. M. Beckner of Winchester, who spoke at considerable length.

A short prayer and the doxology closed the ceremony of the unveiling and dedication of the Blackburn monument.

INGALS AS A PROPHET.

Hutchinson, Kansas, May 26.—At the meeting today of the Republican editors of the Seventh Congressional district a letter from ex-Senator Ingalls was read and warmly applauded.

Among other things the letter said was: "The Republican party is now confronted with two problems which threaten its supremacy. If we are to succeed, we must deal with the issues of the day as we dealt with slavery, secession and State sovereignty thirty years ago. The Republicanism of the future must readjust its attention to the changed condition of American life or it will perish. I wish to save from this fate by recalling the spirit, the energy, the aggressive and patriotic forces of the founders to the campaign of 1862. This will be waged upon economic, practical questions, and upon memories. Harrison will be renominated and Cleveland will be his antagonist. If we have courage and conscience it will be an Austerlitz. If we dicker with popular errors, compromise with unprincipled leaders, and sneer at honest differences of judgment and opinion, it will be a Waterloo."

Woman and Child Hanged.

Galena, Kansas, May 26.—Several weeks ago Mrs. Blanche McKey, from San Juan county, Colorado, came here to visit her mother. She was accompanied by her two children, aged 6 years and 8 months respectively. She had not been here long when Wm. Alvord, also of Colorado, appeared on the scene. He and Mrs. McKey were evidently on very intimate terms. Sunday afternoon Alvord went walking in the woods near town with Mrs. McKey and her two children. The oldest child returned home at 4 o'clock. Mrs. McKey and the younger child were never again seen alive.

A searching party which had been sent out Sunday evening today discovered the body of the mother and child, hanging to a tree in the woods where they had been walking Sunday. The mother had been hanged with her apron and the child with a ribbon. Alvord was arrested Sunday evening on suspicion of having murdered Mrs. McKey and her baby. When he heard the news of the finding of the bodies he attempted to commit suicide by hanging in his cell but was cut down in time to save his life.

NEWS NOTES.

THE PASSING OF JAS. G. BLAINE.

Denny Appointing the Premier, Both Mental and Physical.

The Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Republic writes his paper as follows, under date of May 27:

Detective O'Malley, the alleged Hennessy jury braver, will try to escape on a technicality.

While trying to arrest Cannon Roberts, deputy sheriff Parks, of Madison county, was killed.

M. W. Beardisley, a wealthy mill owner of Memphis has been missing for a month, and foul play is feared.

The French steamer at St George Bay, Newfoundland, refuses to permit Americans to take or buy bait.

At Clarksville, Ga., Alex Brown and John Wood fought a duel with knives over a woman. Brown was killed.

The cruise of the Charleston in search of the Huia, has been fruitless, and the cargo of the insurgent vessel has been landed.

At Columbia, Penn., Green Wells the negro murderer of John Fly, a prosperous farmer, was taken from jail and lynched.

Rev. W. R. Jones, a popular Baptist preacher of Hardin county, has been indicted for bigamy. He is charged with having three wives.

Pasqualina Robertillo, who shot her lover for betraying her, was acquitted at New York amid tumultuous applause.

The National Butchers Protective Association decided to establish alaitions in order to fight the Chicago dressed beef monopolies.

The Governor of Michigan vetoed a bill appropriating $20,000 from the public treasury for the entertainment of the G. A. R. Society which meets in Detroit in August.

Near Memphis J. H. Nollson was killed by Wm. Latwich. The tragedy grew out of a quarrel between the former's daughter and the latter's wife.

Opponents of Senator Cull, of Florida, claim he was not legally elected. A quorum of the joint assembly voted, but a quorum of the Senate was not present.

A great display of enthusiasm was made in a New York court room on the sequel of an Italian girl who had murdered the man who seduced her and refused to marry her.

Mrs. Lucila Updegraff, of Topeka, Kansas, while temporarily insane, murdered her three children, committed suicide and fired the house, the bodies of all being burned to a cinder.

The miners who went out on strike at Scranton, Pa., have been blacklisted by the operatives in that section, and the men find it impossible to get employment. Great desolation prevails in that section.

SUFFERINGS OF JEWS.

Scenes Resulting from Russia's Measures of Expulsion.

Berlin, May 28.—The Hebrew relief committee here has secured a long railway tunnel at Charlottenburg in which to shelter Russian Jews en route to Hamburg, for embarkation. Boxes of clothing and enormous boilers of coffee and supplies of bread and brandy are in readiness to relieve the misery of the crowds of fugitives that daily pour out of the railway trains. Many heartrending scenes are described and tales are told of extreme suffering. Many of the fugitives have to leave on a day's notice, and were compelled to abandon everything but what they stood in, while others who were octogenarians hardly able to walk, are seen staggering under racks containing all their present worldly possessions. In many cases the fugitives are of the poorer classes, with numerous scantily clothed children dragging at their mothers' skirts and crying for bread.

All are shy and suspicious, fearing their ill treatment at Russian railway stations, and fear fresh torments and perils if they enter the waiting rooms. A doctor attends the children who are ill from the effects of the journey. The fugitives describe how the streets in which they lived would be suddenly cordoned with the police searching for Jews, who would fly to the synagogue for safety; how the doors of the synagogues would be wrenched and the troops of armed men would tie their hands and feet and plunder every thing in the place, and how, on arriving at the frontier, the police would extort fresh bribes to allow them to cross.

Francis Kennedy and Henry Kennedy, President and Secretary of the Spring Garden bank of Philadelphia, have been arrested charged with embezzling $100,000.

Color of Flowers.

There is a purpose for everything in nature. The existence of flowers is not merely to excite the fancy of mankind, but to propagate the species.

Their colors are not breaks to tickle the esthetic, but to attract insects with the selfsame view.

So their fragrance and honey serve the same selfish end. Other uses are merely incidental.

I shall mention the color of some of our wild flowers—all found in Crittenden county—in so much like the order of their blooming:

WHITE.

Hepatic (Liverwort), Wood Anemone, Service Berry, Blood Root, Spring Beauty (has pink stripes on petals) Marsh Composita, Dogwood, Wild Plum, Fingerwort, Pintail (tinged with purple) Mayapple, Yucca, (Bear Grass) Clematis, Wild Poppies, Vines, Violets (crown color) Blackberry and the rays of Camomile (dogfennel) Aster and Ox-eye Daisy, White Wake Robin, (rare) Partridge Berry (rare, very sweet scented.)

BLUE.

PURPLE.

Tulip, Jacob's Ladder, Sweet William, Wake Robin (dull purple, red or brown) Monkeyflower (tinged with purple) Dwarf Iris (purple or pale blue and yellow) waterleaf, Stramonium and Purple Aster.

RED.

Catch Fly or Fire Pink, Redbud, Cardinal Flower, Pink Root, (red and yellow).

PINK.

Columbine (yellow and pink), Wild Rose, American Century, Phlox, Fingered Orchis, and Meadow Beauty.

YELLOW.

Dogwood, Violet (Adder's Tongue) Crowfoot, Dandelion, Pond Lillies, Wool Sorel, Sisso, the Foxglove, (rare) Violets, Canada Lily, Corpse, Golden Rod, Evening Primrose, Jewell weed, Carex, Ladies Slipper, Nutkin, St. John's Wort, Virginia Creeper, Hairy Puccoon, Coneflower and Sunflower.

ROBBERS IN MAINE.

Highwaymen Attempt to Hold Up a Crowded Passenger Train.

Bangor, Me., May 16.—The train which left Bangor for St. John's last night at 7:40 o'clock was held up just beyond Enfield, who fired at the engineer and car. The train had left Enfield when a man was noticed by the fireman crawling over the tender and who told him to stop the train. The gong on the engine was sounded but the engineer didn't stop the train until the gong again rung. The engine then came to a stand still, when shooting was heard, and for five minutes the gang of four robbers kept up an indiscriminate fire, the mail car being the particular object of attack.

The leader of the gang was armed with a rifle, the others with revolvers. They fired several shots into the baggage and mail cars, into the tender and mail car, but the engineer pulled the train out before any one was injured. The station agent at Enfield was fired at by the man, as he was hanging out a signal light, when the glass of the lantern was broken and the light extinguished. The man ordered him to leave and he did so. Officers will be sent out to capture the assailants if such be possible. The affair has caused considerable excitement in this section.

Injunction Dissolved.

Greenville, Ky., March 28.—Judge Grace yesterday dissolved the injunction restraining the collection of the taxes for the payment of Muhlenberg county's subscription to the bonds for the Elizabethtown and Paducah railroad. An appeal to the court of appeals has been taken.

The man who spends all his spare time in churches does not need a badge to show that fact. The same is true, we believe, of the man who spends his spare time in saloons.

THE AIRSHIP SAILS.

The Model Exhibited to a Select Audience.

St. Louis Republic.

At the meeting of the St. Louis Autumnal Festivities Association on Monday evening at the Exposition Building, there were a number of neat invitation cards handed around among the directors requesting the presence of the recipients at the trial trip of the model of the Pennington airship, and that trial trip took place last evening in the Exposition Music Hall. The matter was kept very secret, and though a few of the cards found their way to the press, nothing farther than that the model would be exhibited could be learned.

The audience at the Exposition last evening was composed of only a few of the leading business men of the city. The hour appointed for the trial was 6 o'clock and there was no delay.

The model, which was exactly like the cut of the airship published in the R. P. public, with the exception of not having the car suspended underneath, is 5½ feet in diameter, 24 feet over all in length, and weighs 35 pounds. It has a lift capacity of forty one pounds, and Pennington says has attained a speed of thirty miles an hour. The model is constructed of oil silk, on a frame of hollow tubes of aluminum, which are filled with hydrogen gas, and plugged at the end so that their weight is practically nothing.

The trial of the model last evening was pronounced a success by the gentlemen present a success.

It was clearly demonstrated that the model steered and propelled itself. It is claimed to be the only aerial craft ever made that accomplished these feats. The model was propelled by a screw attached to the front of the machine and was worked by a small dynamo attached to the lower side, and which weighed three and a half pounds and was foul from a battery on the stage.

The model circled gracefully around the large hall, its direction being changed from time to time by the rudder arrangement being turned by Mr. Pennington or one of his assistants.

This model was brought here because St. Louis is to be the home of the first successful airship that the world has ever known, and because that ship is now being built at the St. Louis Fair Grounds. This vessel is designed to carry six persons. The material for the ship has all been brought to St. Louis, and the inventor promises to have the ship put together and ready for the trial trip within one month from today. The diameter of this airship is 24 feet and its length over all 30 feet; its lifting capacity will be 1700 pounds, and the total weight of the machine and equipments 520 pounds. The machine will cost ten thousand dollars for the material and the labor.

To begin right is the first and most important step towards success.

"Whatever you do, do it all your might." The dog that hangs his tail is always bitten. If you advertise do it just as well as it can be done.

Say the right thing in the right way, and in an attractive form; use the best papers to reach a class of readers sought, and then keep right on.

The largest and most successful advertiser of the day borrowed from a friend sufficient money to pay for his first advertising in the daily papers of a western city. His first advertisement was good; it attracted attention and it paid. The proceeds were again similarly invested, and similar results followed.

Never, or as they say in the West sand, as they say in the West sand, equipped with judgment, goes a great way in advertising.

Railroad to China.

Paducah, Ky., May 28.—A character was obtained from the last Kentucky Legislature to build a railroad from Paducah to Cairo, Ills., but for more than a year the project has been lost sight of. On Monday last, however, ex-Congressman Phil B. Thompson and Warren Green, son of Dr. Norvin Green, arrived here, and after spending a couple of days went down to Ft. Jefferson and looked over that field. Upon their return this evening they made public their business and it is for the purpose of building a railroad from Cairo to Paducah. The distance by land is only thirty two miles, though by river, which is at present the shortest route, it is seventy nine miles. Messrs. Green and Thompson left for Louisville this evening, but will return in a few days with an engineering corps, to ascertain the cost of building the road.

President Harrison has refused to consummate the purchase of the Choctaw lands until July. It is believed to be a scheme to saddle a $3,000,000 appropriation on the Democratic House.

Senator Call has been reelected by the Florida Legislature. An unsuccessful effort was made by his opponents to break a quorum, and the hundred members on'ly fifty four voted. The contest began weeks ago.

The man who spends all his spare time in churches does not need a badge to show that fact.

The same is true, we believe, of the man who spends his spare time in saloons.

A BLOODY TRAGEDY.

Two Men Murdered in a Brutal Manner at Cumberland Gap.

Middlesboro, Ky., May 28.—The town of Cumberland Gap, over the Tennessee line, is again the scene of a bloody murder, which took place late Tuesday night. The murderers were Marion Noe, of Bell county, and H. H. Hannon, of Bowlinggreen, Ky., while the victims were M. K. Dineen, of Lexington and James Turner, of Clay county, Ky. A-1 were laborers at work at Harrogate Noe lived in a tent and with him were two lewd women.

While he and Hannon were away, Turner and Dineen, both drunk, went to the tent. Noe and Hannon returned and found both men asleep. They made the women take away the arms of the sleeping men, and then deliberately shot both through the heads and bodies. Noe then stabbed Dineen in the right breast with a pair of scissors to see if he was dead.

OBITUARY.

Roberties L. Moore, Sr., was the third child of Capt. Alford Moore, who came to this country from North Carolina while quite young. Roberties L. Moore, Sr., was born in Livingston county, now Crittenden county, Ky., March 24, 1820; was married to Mary Bruce, daughter of the late Kater Bruce of Webster co Ky., in 1842, who only lived four years. As a result of this union they had two daughters; the eldest is still living and is the wife of Eli Gowan, of Providence, Ky. In 1847 he was married to the widow Harrod, who still survives him. They had seven children, all of whom are living except the two oldest, a son and a daughter. He was made a Mason at Zion Hill Lodge No. 371 in 1864.

As a citizen he was honest, upright and punctual in all his dealings. As a neighbor he was sympathetic and obliging to all; as a friend he was ever true; as a husband and father he was affectionate, kind, considerate, devoted and faithful to the end of life. He began life a very poor man, and by industry, economy and strict attention to business he succeeded in gaining considerable wealth and at the time of his death he was one of the largest stockholders of the Bank of Marion, and was a director of the same.

He departed this life Tuesday evening, at 6 o'clock April 28, 1881, aged 71 years, 1 month and 4 days. He was chatting pleasantly with his family and just stopped breathing. His sudden death was caused by heart failure. He had suffered a great deal from rheumatism for several years. His sudden death was a great shock to his family as well as to the community; it came unexpected to himself.

While he was not a member of any church, he was a firm believer in the Christian religion, and had often expressed his intention of joining the Cumberland Presbyterian church. He told the writer some time ago he had a hope. He said to his daughter in law a short time before he died, that if he had not had a Christian wife he did not know what he would have done, and urged her to seek religion for her husband's sake. He said while he preferred to stay here as long as he could, yet he was ready and willing to go when the messenger came; said that he was satisfied he would be saved.

The writer feels sad when he realizes that a brother, a kind friend and old neighbor is gone, that we will never see his pleasant face in this world, that we will not clasp the friendly hand nor hear his voice again on this earth; but we weep not as those who have no hope.

May the Lord bless this dispensation of His providence to the good of his children, especially those who have no hope. May they be impressed with the importance of preparing for death, while time and opportunity are theirs, and may the Lord abundantly bless his aged companion, who has been so faithful and true to him and to all her obligations in life for so many long years, and may God give her grace to enable her to bear this sad bereavement is the sincere prayer of the writer.

Requisition Refused.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 26.—Gov. today refused to honor a requisition from the Governor of Kentucky for Mrs Laura Jones of Rockport. The circumstances are peculiar. John Bohomie, who lives at Owenses, Ky., is the father of Laura Jones, and he it is that is seeking to have her arrested and returned to Owenses on a charge of perjury. Laura recently ran away from home and married young Mr Jones, of Rockport, much against her father's will. He charges that she swore she was of marriageable age, whereas he says she is but sixteen years of age. For this reason he would have her arrested, dragged back home and tried for a crime for which she would be sent to prison if proven guilty. In some way, which from this distance seems strange, Bohomie succeeded in getting from the Governor of Kentucky a requisition for the girl, but Governor Hovey neatly nipped the scheme.

In giving his reasons for refusing to honor the requisition, he called attention to the fact that there is only one person's affidavit against the girl and no grand jury indictment, while in Indiana the affidavit of at least two persons and an indictment are necessary before a requisition can be approved. In closing the communication Gov. Hovey gallantly says: "Outside of these considerations this case seems very strange, where a father seeks to have his daughter arrested and made a felon, because of a natural desire to marry the man she loves. It is not an admirable spirit shown on the part of the father, to say the least."

Guess Who?

Mr. Wm. Westlake, a prominent farmer and breeder of thoroughbred horses, living near Avoca, Neb., was badly injured by being thrown from his sulky, so as to be unable to raise his hand to his head. After using numerous liniments and consulting several physicians without getting any relief, he asked me if I knew of anything that would help him. I recommended Chamberlin's Pain Balm, which he used, and in two weeks he had entirely recovered the use of his arm. I consider Chamberlin's Pain Balm, the greatest preparation ever produced for sprains, bruises, deep seated and muscular pains, burns and scalds.—J. L. Business is Business.

A lithographing establishment in Buffalo recently received from a Western customer a circular note announcing the death of the head of the firm. It was given to the clerk with instructions to write a letter of condolence in reply, and this is what he replied: "We are greatly pained to learn of the loss sustained by your firm, and extend to you our hearty sympathy. We notice that the circular you send us announcing Mr. —'s death is lithographed by Chicago parties. We regret that you did not see it in your way to let us figure on this job. The next time there is a bereavement in your house we shall be glad to quote you on lithographic circunaries, and are confident we can give you better work at less cost than anybody else in the business. Trusting we may soon have an opportunity of quoting you prices we remain, with profound sympathy, yours very truly,"—Buffalo Courier.

The honeysuckle and the trumpet vine can be grown as shrubs by fastening them to a stake four or five feet high and keeping the ends pruned off at the top of the stake.

Shrubs which flower early should always be pruned in the summer or early fall, as the flower buds are on last season's growth of wood; while late flowering varieties should be always pruned in the spring, as the flowers are on this season's growth of wood.

The clematis family is one of the very best of the flowering vines. They make a rapid growth and the foliage etc. when the flowers are very beautiful. They die down to the top of the ground every fall.—St Louis Republic.

The Indian Games.

The Indian games, about which much is written and said of late and which have made fine exhibitions at some of the poultry shows among the fowls for fancy, are birds of great physical beauty, and fine plumage. The fanciers, who have welcomed this breed with delight, claim that it is of value to the farmer. The Fanciers' Journal says:

The Indian game has many excellent qualities, and while its apparent gawkiness may not suit those not accustomed to it, the weight of the bird and its fine carriage, when dressed will impress the record. What Indian game will do as layers we are not prepared to answer. We have one pen of birds on trial, and there are four more pens in the neighborhood.

Good Counsel for Another Beekeeper.

A correspondent in the American Bee Correspondent gives this advice to beginners: Keep things in order in the apiary. Have your tools, empty hives, sections, crates, etc., in their respective places, ready for use in case of need.

Never let your bees while excited, attack a person, but when they do, drive them away.

To avoid bee stings, proceed quietly and with care while working among your bees, do your work with dispatch, and have your hive closed before the bees become aware that you have been near.

Never work among bees without a smoker, but use it judiciously and on proper occasions to keep them under subjection and prevent their anger, but never smoke a bee away from a hive in a bad state of repair, house comparatively new and cost $1200, 2 good tenant houses 3 good barns, fencing good. Price $10 per acre, terms easy. The farm is the susceptible of division so as to make good farms.
